Saikhanchimeg Tsogetsai Khan Wins US Women's Open

Having come so close to taking the US Women's Open title last year, losing in the final round to IM Nazi Paikidze after winning her first 4 games, Saikhanchimeg Tsogetsai Khan went one better this year, starting the same way but winning her final game to finish with a perfect 5/5, a full point ahead of her nearest rivals WGM Sabina Foisor and WFM Ramya Inapuri.

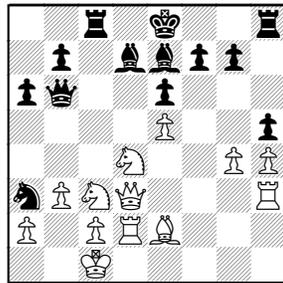

The following round 4 victory over Julia Sevilla was key to giving her breathing room in the last round.

 Dubious although a common theme in such positions. The simple 18...0-0 followed by a queenside attack already gives Black a big edge in this position.

Tsogetsai Khan's path to victory was made a little easier when top seed WGM Sabina Foisor fell to Badamkha Norovsambuu in round 3 in the following game. This eventually saved Tsogetsai Khan from facing Foisor in the tournament.

Illia Nyzhnyk Takes Walter Browne Memorial Blitz

GM Illia Nyzhnyk took home the Walter Browne Memorial Blitz trophy and first prize of $1,000 after finishing in clear first with a score of 11.5/14. He was tied with fellow St. Louis compatriot GM Alex Shimanov going into the last round and while he won both games, Shimanov only took 1.5 points, leaving the whole pot in Nyzhnyk's hands.

GMs Dariusz Swiercz, Akshat Chandra and Zbigniew Pakleza finished a whole point behind Shimanov on 10/14 to finish tied for 3rd.

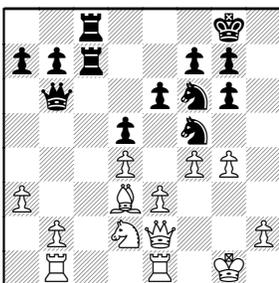

The following two games showcase a fun battle with English IM Lawrence Trent. Nyzhnyk manages to steal a crucial half-point in the first game with white while playing a major piece endgame to the maximum with black.

National Open Starts on a Thursday! Huh? What?!

I've personally never been able to write about the National Open main event for the Friday Bulletin before but from the current attendance count, just over 700 which is the first time that has happened since 2008, it seems the experiment to move to 7 rounds has been successful. Next year the Open Section will be moving to a 9-round FIDE norm event, but more on that in a future edition.

Round 1 of the 4-day schedule saw the usual mis-matches. For once there were no major upsets, not counting a forfeit win over a GM on board 5 of course. Steve Wongso was the only lower rated player to take anything from his game, a draw with FM Nick Raptis down on board 24.

Here are a couple of fun games from the upper-mid section of the Open Section.

cally play 15.fxe5 to undouble the f-pawns but Moradiabadi sees the open d-file as a way of getting his knight over to the kingside to start an attack.

GM Tigran Petrosian Perfect in Simul

GM Tigran Petrosian took on 23 players in the GM simul on Thursday. Unfortunately none of the players managed to win or draw as the GM went a perfect 23-0. I've yet to speak to Tigran about which games he thought were best and so once I do I hope to publish one or two. In the meantime, thanks to all the players for participating and even though you didn't win, we hope you had a great experience!

ANALYSIS OF YOUR GAMES

GM Melik Khachiyan will analyze National Open games 2 hours after the start of each round. National Open players age 14 and under are eligible for the Fred Die Best Game Award. Those who wish to have a game considered must bring it to one of the first six analysis sessions. Only rounds 1 through 6 will be consid-
